Dual Understanding Is
rged in First Address
In Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—On his first trip as chief executive, President Coolidge today propounded a new industrial golden rule, which he declared must be applied between agriculture and commerce if the former is to live and the latter is to continue to prosper. Women cannot be divorced from "Thority," was his burden. The President's message to these great industries was delivered at luncheon tendered him by the Chicago Commercial Club, the industrial leaders of this mammoth national market place.

He urged the commercial and industrial side of the nation to pay special attention to wheat, corn and hogs, to their transportation and their prices, and to give more thought to the men and women who produce them.

"Do you wish to maintain a system which will contribute both to their welfare and your own?" he challenged his luncheon hosts, "or to permit even unintentional methods of doing business under which their want and distress will ultimately result in the failure of your own success and prosperity? You people of commerce, you people of the city are an integral part of the life of agriculture of the life of the country."

"In the long course of affairs," he said, "and in a world which has become little more than a great neighborhood, our common sense must tell us, if our self interests did not, our prosperity, our advancement, our portion of good fortune, depend largely upon the share shall be allotted to our neighbors. At the last, those of us who sit in the supreme service of building and bettering our civilization must go up or down, must fall or together in one common enterprise."

President drew his text from memory of Joseph and the Israelites and the seven years of famine depicted in the book of Genesis. He called attention to the years of plenty, that came after the war, and he the seven "lean years" that followed. The trials of elites, who in their time of went to the filled warehouses, he likened to those of American farmer in the throes of war depression.

The trials of depression which never has suffered will not vain if, as was the case with Israel, they are able to give to the world a new impulse a new ideal said.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ASKED FOR HUGE SUM FOR NEW ROADS

Highway Department Wants Forty Three Million For Work.

Columbus, Dec. 4.—An extensive program of road building and maintenance is planned by the state highway department, which will ask the Ohio legislature to appropriate $43,572,390 to carry out the enterprise.

Twenty million dollars is asked for new roads alone in the highway department's program, which, if approved by the general assembly and completed, will leave only 1,500 miles of unpaved roads in the state road system of 10,000 miles, officials say, and most of this unpaved section either will be improved with gravel or in sections seldom traveled, except by scattered residents of the locality.

Officials plan to build 2,000 miles of road, 400 of them gravel, with this money and that which they will receive from counties and the federal government. In addition $23,000,000 is asked for maintenance and repairs, $12,000,000 to be spent the first year, and $11,000,000 the next. This will be used for resurfacing, widening and grade-crossing elimination, along with repairing travel-worn pavements.

For the first time in history, the exact location of every road, bridge, grade-crossing elimination or improvement of any nature contemplated by the department will be furnished the solons, along with information as to the cost, type of improvement, and reasons for its necessity.

This information was assembled by representatives of the department and of the Ohio Good Roads federation, who, in the last year, visited 85 of the 88 counties in the state, conferring with local officials and determining what was needed in every locality. Although at first glance the amount asked seems prohibitive, officials say they consulted representatives and senators in all the counties visited, and that the legislators are in favor of the program, which will be subject to their approval or rejection.

Approval of a bond issue, the "passing it on to the next generation" method; enactment of a gasoline tax, or provision for an additional state levy, are methods suggested for obtaining the revenue.

WITNESS DECLARIES BIDS WERE DICTATED

Chicago, Dec. 4.—A. H. Crump of Philadelphia testified in the Forbes-Thompson contract case that John W. Thompson, millionaire St. Louis contractor, "dictated" to his "experts" how much to bid for contracts to build government hospitals. Crump, secretary-treasurer of the defunct Pontiac Construction company of Detroit, said he was called to Washington to estimate the cost of building a veterans' hospital at Northampton, Mass. After figuring for several days, he said he submitted his bid to Thompson, who took it over and then ordered him to change it to a higher figure. The Pontiac bid "dictated" by Thompson, and higher than several others submitted to the Veterans Bureau, was successful and this firm was awarded the contract, witness said.

URGES ECONOMY IN MESSAGE TO LAME CONGRESS

President Opposes League —Favors Full Navy Strength

Executive Anxious For Settlement of Muscle Shoals Problem

Washington, Dec. 4.—President Coolidge in his annual message to Congress declared that the government can do more to remedy the economic ills of the people by a system of rigid economy in public expenditure than can be accomplished through any other action.

He held that rigid economy by the present session of Congress will pave the way during the next fiscal year for a reduction of taxes in conformity with scientific taxing principles. The president added that nothing is more likely to produce public confidence, the mainstay of prosperity, than a continuing policy of economy.

Recommendations made by the president included the following:

Repeal of the publicity provision of the income tax law.

An adequate army and navy of full military strength, but with no armament race of any kind with any nation. (The public is advised to be "little impressed" by reports of what other nations are doing in this line.)

American entrance into an international court of justice, but with specific reservations to the effect that the American government will not be bound by advisory opinions nor dragged into litigation without its consent.

Against World League.

That the United States should remain outside the League of Nations and persistently refuse to assume the obligations imposed by its covenants.

On the other hand, America is committed to the moral support of right, truth, justice and humanitarian efforts all over the world.

Some revision of existing immigration laws to allow those aliens already here more latitude in bringing their relatives. Law in principle necessary and sound.

Disposition of Muscle Shoals to private interests, either by outright sale or long-term lease.

Committee of congress to the Hughes Hat consider bids. Disposition to be under rigid guarantees of commercial nitrogen production at reasonable prices for agricultural purposes.

No extensive tinkering with the railroads, but encouragement of further consolidations into fewer systems. If the railroad labor board can not be improved upon it should be left alone.

Court Room, Hanover, Dec. 4.—George many's "vampire killer" went to trial today with the air of a hero about to receive deserved public acclaim.

The grim figure of the official hangman—executions in Hanover are still carried out with the axe—did not serve to rob Fritz Haarmann of his bravado as his trial for twenty seven murders got under way. He feels sure he will bow his head to the executioner, but he prefers to make light of it.

"I know the whole world is watching me," he said. "You needn't think I'll break down in the courtroom. No, I cut a very dignified figure. I will tell just what happened. I know I did wrong and that I must die for it but I swear at the moments I did the actual killings, I didn't know what I was doing."

The man characterized as history's "greatest criminal," sat in his cell and sipped strong mocha coffee, especially

FIVE ARE BURNED TO DEATH AS TRAIN HITS AUTO TRUCK

Forty Barrels Turpentine On Truck Are Fired By Wreck

Detroit, Dec. 4.—A truck loaded with 40 barrels of turpentine was struck by an interurban train, causing the death of five persons.

The accident occurred at Wyandot, below this city. The train consisted of two cars, the parlor car leading. This caught fire when the turpentine was hurled into the wreckage. The car was destroyed. The bodies of the five who lost their lives were burned beyond recognition. A dozen persons were injured more or less seriously.

The dead include the motorman, one man in the parlor car, two women and a child. The interurban was reported to have been running between 55 and 60 miles an hour when it collided with the truck. The motorman was happy.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The French attitude toward inter-allied debts has been misstated and the figures mentioned in press reports are inaccurate, the foreign office declared today in announcing a communiqué would be issued tonight on the subject.

Ambassador Jules Jusserand was instructed to sound out Washington, but was given no authority to negotiate, the foreign office said.

The foreign office was not surprised at the attitude of President Coolidge on the subject of France's war debt, it was said by officials.

It was made plain by officials of the foreign office that the French government does not wish sentiment to be mixed with the question. It was pointed out that Italy, Roumania, Russia and Jugoslavia follow France and that France desires payment although at the same time it feels that a reduction of debts is essential.

IS ROCKEFELLER'S DAUGHTER TO WED?

The marriage of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, of Chicago, daughter of John D. Rockefeller and divorced wife of Harold McCormick, Chicago multimillionaire, to "sympathetic Swiss psychologist" wooer, Edwin D. Krenn, is confidently expected by Chicago society. Krenn, an architect, borrowed enough money from Mrs. McCormick to go into the real estate business in Chicago. Now he is a millionaire, and, although twenty years her junior, is paying ardent court for her hand.

WILLIAMSON WILL SEEK FIRST DEGREE MURDER INDICTMENT

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson announced Thursday that he will ask the grand jury, which will re-convene at 10 o'clock Friday morning to investigate the killing of Chas. Mackroad, by C. W. "Tacks" Latimer, to indict Latimer for first degree murder.

The October Grand Jury was recalled by Attorney Williamson with the sanction of Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy who has been serving on the Cleveland Common Pleas bench and was away from the city when the killing occurred.

Prosecutor Williamson said that he had received word from Judge Gowdy that he will arrive in Xenia either Thursday night or Friday morning, but in any event would arrive in time for the Grand Jury deliberations. At least fourteen witnesses will be called by Prosecutor Williamson, he announced.

Counsel for the defendant propounded Thursday that when the public hears the testimony of eye witnesses, it will no longer hold the belief that Latimer deliberately shot Mackroad down but on the contrary will be convinced that Latimer was justified in believing that he was in danger of his life.

Several persons on the Commercial bank corner, according to counsel, heard Latimer beg Mackroad to go away and leave him alone, that he did not want to have any trouble, that he hadn't wronged him and did not want to quarrel; as he was a man of peace. Latimer's attorneys expect to introduce evidence of this nature when the action comes to trial they declare.

OCTOGENARIAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

After a week's illness with pleurisy and heart trouble, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, 81, died at her home, two miles north of Clifton on the Clifton Pike, Wednesday night at 9:45 o'clock.

Mrs. Anderson's husband, David Anderson, died forty-eight years ago. She is survived by two sons, Clarence Anderson, hardware dealer in Yellow Springs and Albert Anderson, of near Clifton and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Anderson was a member of the Clifton Presbyterian Church. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home, with interment in Clifton Cemetery.

REPORT OF HINES ADmits ERRORS

Washington, Dec. 4.—Admission of "errors of judgment" in the administration of the Veterans' bureau and statements of confidence that the period of experimentation is over, marked the annual report of General T. Hines, director of the bureau, submitted to congress. "It is true that difficulties have been encountered in administration, that errors in judgment have been made, but it is equally true that in an undertaking of the magnitude and complexity of veterans' relief, these were to be expected," said Hines. "It is worthy of note that a background of good will has made the work of the bureau generally effective and little in the way of ill-advised criticism has served to nullify the results obtained."

Two Auto Victims.
Toledo, Dec. 4.—Elmer Armentrout, 45, and Clarence Schuchert, 9, died here as the result of two automobile accidents. Armentrout was hurled into a ditch when his machine was struck by another car. The Schuchert lad was killed when his sled slid in front of an automobile.

COURT NEWS SUE FOR DAMAGES

Dr. A. C. Messenger and his wife, Amanda L. Messenger, have filed separate friendly suits for damages in Common Pleas Court against their son-in-law, R. C. Leslie, based on efforts to obtain settlement for an automobile accident.

The plaintiffs are suing for $1,000 and $2,500 respectively alleging cuts, bruises, and broken bones were received when they were riding in an automobile with Leslie June 29, 1923, and the machine collided with another car on the Dayton Pike. They allege the accident was caused by the defendant driving carelessly and negligently at a speed in excess of thirty five miles an hour and on the wrong side of the road. F. L. Johnston is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Held Up by Bandits.

Cincinnati, Dec. 4.—His car crowded against the curb by auto bandits while he was collecting for the People's Packing company, Thomas McHugh was robbed of $2,000. His car was disabled and the bandits escaped.

COURT NEWS SUE FOR DAMAGES

In her address she said a life worth while was a vision worth while, and in this day and age it is time for more visions as to future welfare and progress of mankind. To illustrate her point Miss Ervin quoted this passage from the Bible, "When there is no vision the people perish but happy is he that keepeth the law." There are three things that a woman must do in order to aid the progress of the race, she declared: first: find the best in themselves; second: find the best in her fellow men; third: teach children to use their power to choose correctly at an early age. Those who will succeed are those who take into consideration these four fundamentals of success—preparation, perseverance, personal influence and prayer, she said.

Following her address regular chapel exercises were held.

REDS MAY TRADE ROUSH TO GIANTS

New York, Dec. 4.—Talk of baseball trades on baseball's Rialto today centered on the possibility of a "swap" between the Giants and the Cincinnati Red Legs, by Ed. Roush, once passed up by John McGraw, might return to the Giants' outfield in exchange for Bill Terry, utility infielder, a pitcher and some cash.

The presence here of Garry Herrmann, and Jack Hendricks, president and manager of the Reds, respectively lent color to the reports.

POLICEMEN ADMIT DEFEAT AFTER ICE CONQUERS FLIVVER

The icy condition of the streets Wednesday morning nearly proved the nemesis of two members of the Police Department.

On duty all Tuesday night Patrolman Charles Thompson was anxious to get to his home on Home Avenue and his fellow patrolman, Ed Craig kindly offered to take him in the police car, a Ford touring car which was unfortunately not equipped with chains.

Half way up the hill near the over-head bridge on South Detroit Street the Ford began to skid and slipped and slid its way back underneath the bridge. Undaunted, the patrolmen attempted to scale the rise again but although they succeeded in approaching to within fifteen yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing the ice got in its work and skidded the car back underneath the bridge again.

It was then that Patrolman Craig admitted defeat and headed the car up Hill Street, which is not paved, from where they were able to detour to Home Avenue.

Eight HUNDREDS ABLE TO COMMIT FEEBLE MINDED YOUTHS BECAUSE OF LACK OF SPACE

Though thirty-eight inmates of feeble minded institutions are in Greene County, more could and would be committed from this county if there were sufficient institutional housing accommodations. Carl Marshall, judge of the probate and juvenile court here, is responsible for this statement. He is on a waiting list of nine, on which commitment papers date back for more than a year, and to the fact that school heads report there are a number of children in school who need institutional care besides a great many who should be committed but who are left in the care of relatives because of the lack of available space.

With no survey or records available as a guide, officials here refuse even to estimate the number of feeble minded persons in the county who should have institutional care, which is denied by the straitened conditions of the present institutions according to Judge Marshall, who has had to wrestle with the problem of what to do with those mental deficient. Failure on the number of commitments over any given period of time would be misleading because of the fact that the majority of requests for probations are turned down.

For this reason only a small waiting list of those committed is kept ahead, and as they are gradually admitted to an institution their places on the waiting list are filled by others of the more urgent cases. "There is nothing to be gained by probating and committing every application because it is impossible for the state institution to find space for them," Judge Marshall said. "We therefore only commit the most urgent cases or those we think we can find room for, and have to leave the others with relatives. Thus often a boy able to work on the farm at Orient may be taken quicker than a feeble-minded child that would have to be taken care of in one of the other institutions."

Reference to the waiting list shows commitments date back to March 1923, that have not yet been disposed of. Greene County's quota in institutions of this nature is seventeen and this number has been exceeded by twenty-one. In the last year there were no commitments made, although there were many applications, because of the crowded condition. In Judge Marshall's eight years on the probate bench, only three have been sent to the Lima Hospital for the Criminal Insane. Others are youths who need correctional care, such as the feeble minded institutions offer.

Pupils of that grade of mentality in the city schools are assigned to the Opportunity School according to C. A. Waltz, city school superintendent. The Opportunity School takes in pupils of all ages who for any reason have been retarded in their studies through ill health, lack of home co-operation, or other reasons. They are taken out of the regular class rooms in order that their slowness may not deter brighter pupils.

There are now thirty-nine pupils in the Opportunity School, who are taught to do useful things with their hands, while the rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic are given them slowly so that they can absorb it. The majority of them are pupils who were retarded for natural reasons, and when they catch up they are returned to their regular classes.

A few of these pupils however, are of such a mental degree that they should be in a state institution. Practically nothing can be accomplished with this type of pupil even in the Opportunity School, it is said. This number also does not include at least that many more who have "graduated." Having done as much for them as possible they have been freed from school, and are supposed to be under the directions of parents.

From this type permitted to roam at large comes a class of petty thieves, police records show. Store breaking and stealing of small amounts, has time after time been traced to youths who need institutional care. Some of them are prevented from entering the institutions because of lack of space. Others have been admitted and are sent home on trial, for it is through the release of youths on probation that the state institutions are able to take care of as many as they do at the present.

County schools officials with no Opportunity Schools, have no check on feeble mindedness, according to H. C. Autman, county school superintendent. They are admitted to class rooms and because extra care cannot be given them, they are at the Children's Home where James Soward, is superintendent. Children in the feeble-minded class are not accepted there if they can be gotten in an institution.

Because these people cannot be given institutional care, they are permitted to roam the streets freely, according to Judge Marshall. They are in the care of parents or relatives and not being watched, are permitted to do as they please. Many of them do not have criminal tendencies. Others develop those tendencies during their freedom, but their crimes are usually confined to petty thieving. Much of this could be eliminated if authorities were able to send away all who should be committed to state institutions, it is said.

Besides the pupils in the Opportunity School who need institutional care, there are others who are on the border line or who are not up to normal, but who are susceptible to learning. Authorities believe they can be made into worthwhile citizens without commitment to an institution.

Social workers say feeble minded families, in which every member of the family enters that classification, supply much of their duties. They have never kept records of these cases. A survey was made among city school children six years ago by representatives of a state welfare agency, but reports made then, are not available now. Thus there is no present record or check of the number of people who need institutional care.

Xenia city has a school enrollment of 1,850.

MODISH MITZI—No Leopard Wants To Change His Spots. By Jay V. Jay

It doesn't even have to be real leopard. One of the famous Paris designers is trimming ensemble suits with leopard cloth—like this that Mitzi wears to trim a smart black coat.

This is a silk frock spotted with the same leopard skin design. It is striking and attractive, this material and is being used for negligees and blouse as well as for frocks.

Leopard cloth is used, too, for this smart set. It is combined with black velvet. The hat is of the new beret shape with a long bow of the velvet for trimming. Velvet forms the edge of the scarf.

MILLIONAIRE REGAINS YOUTH

NOTED PHYSICIAN SAYS GLAND EXTRACTS WILL "MAKE OVER" MANY A MAN AND WOMAN.

The Western millionaire who recently married a famous and beautiful artist is reported to have paid a fabulous sum to receive the rejuvenating gland treatment from one of America's leading doctors.

Feeding the blood with gland matter has met with amazing success, but until the discovery of Kath, only the very wealthy could afford the gland treatment.

The Kath institute reports that patients have been amazed to find a new spark of life ignited when the worn-out glands of the body are supplied with the genuine extract of animal glands, as found in Kath. Pep, strength, endurance, come back quickly in many cases. Appetite improves, flabby muscles take on new tone and the system tingles with fiery energy, say numerous users.

The Kath gland treatment is for everyday folks who cannot afford high-priced medical treatment by specialists. In a few weeks this Kath treatment often has the same fine effects as the costly treatment now being taken by the large number of rich people—full healthy cheeks, an abundance of strength, vigor, love of action.

The following druggists have been appointed local Kath representatives and are authorized to guarantee that unless the Kath gland treatment does exactly what is claimed for it—money will be refunded.

Reconsideration by congress of the whole government shipping program. Immediate requirement is transfer into emergency fleet corporation of the whole responsibility of operation of the fleet and other property, leaving to the shipping board solely the duty of determining certain major policies which require deliberate action.

Continued development of waterways and reclamation projects within the limits of the general economy program.

Some revision of judicial procedure to relieve court congestion and expedite justice.

Agricultural Ills.

Enactment of such legislative remedies for agricultural ills as are worked out by the recently-appointed agricultural commission and exertion of all efforts "by government activity and by private agencies to restore and maintain agriculture to a complete normal relationship with other industries."

Passage immediately of pending legislation based on the report of the reclamation fact finding commission "for the proper relief of those needing extension of time in which to meet their payments on irrigated land, and for additional amendments and reforms of our reclamation laws."

Conversion of prohibition enforcement officers and of the first three classes of postmasters into the civil service.

Sympathetic consideration of legislation for disabled veterans.

Extension of the life of the American debt funding commission now trying to fund the seven billion dollars unsecured war loans. President reiterates opposition to cancellation of debts.

Two new pronouncements marked the president's discussion of foreign affairs. One touched on reduction of world armaments and the other had reference to the outlawing of war. The president said:

"It has been and is my expectation that we might hopefully approach other great powers for further conference on this subject as soon as the carrying out of the present reparation plan as the established and settled policy of Europe has created a favorable opportunity. But on account of proposals which have already been made by other governments for a European conference, it will be necessary to wait to see what the outcome

Protection of Negroes.

The president also urged that steps be taken to accord to the negroes "their full constitutional rights, that they should be protected from all of those impositions to which from their position they naturally fall a prey, especially from the crime of lynching;" recommended prompt payment of the French spoliation claims; approved certain changes in court procedure to hasten the administration of justice; suggested establishment of federal reformatories for young men and women and first offenders, and of a national police bureau; and asked for suitable recognition to the world fliers.

In conclusion the president declared the present state of the Union "may be regarded with encouragement and satisfaction by every American." "Our domestic problems are for the most part economic," he said. "We have our enormous debt to pay and we are paying it. We have the high cost of government to diminish and we are diminishing it. We have a heavy burden of taxation to reduce and we are reducing it." The nation, he added, has definitely relinquished "the old standard of dealing with other countries by terror and force and is definitely committed to the new standard of dealing with them through friendship and understanding."

New Way to Quickly Stop Worst Cough

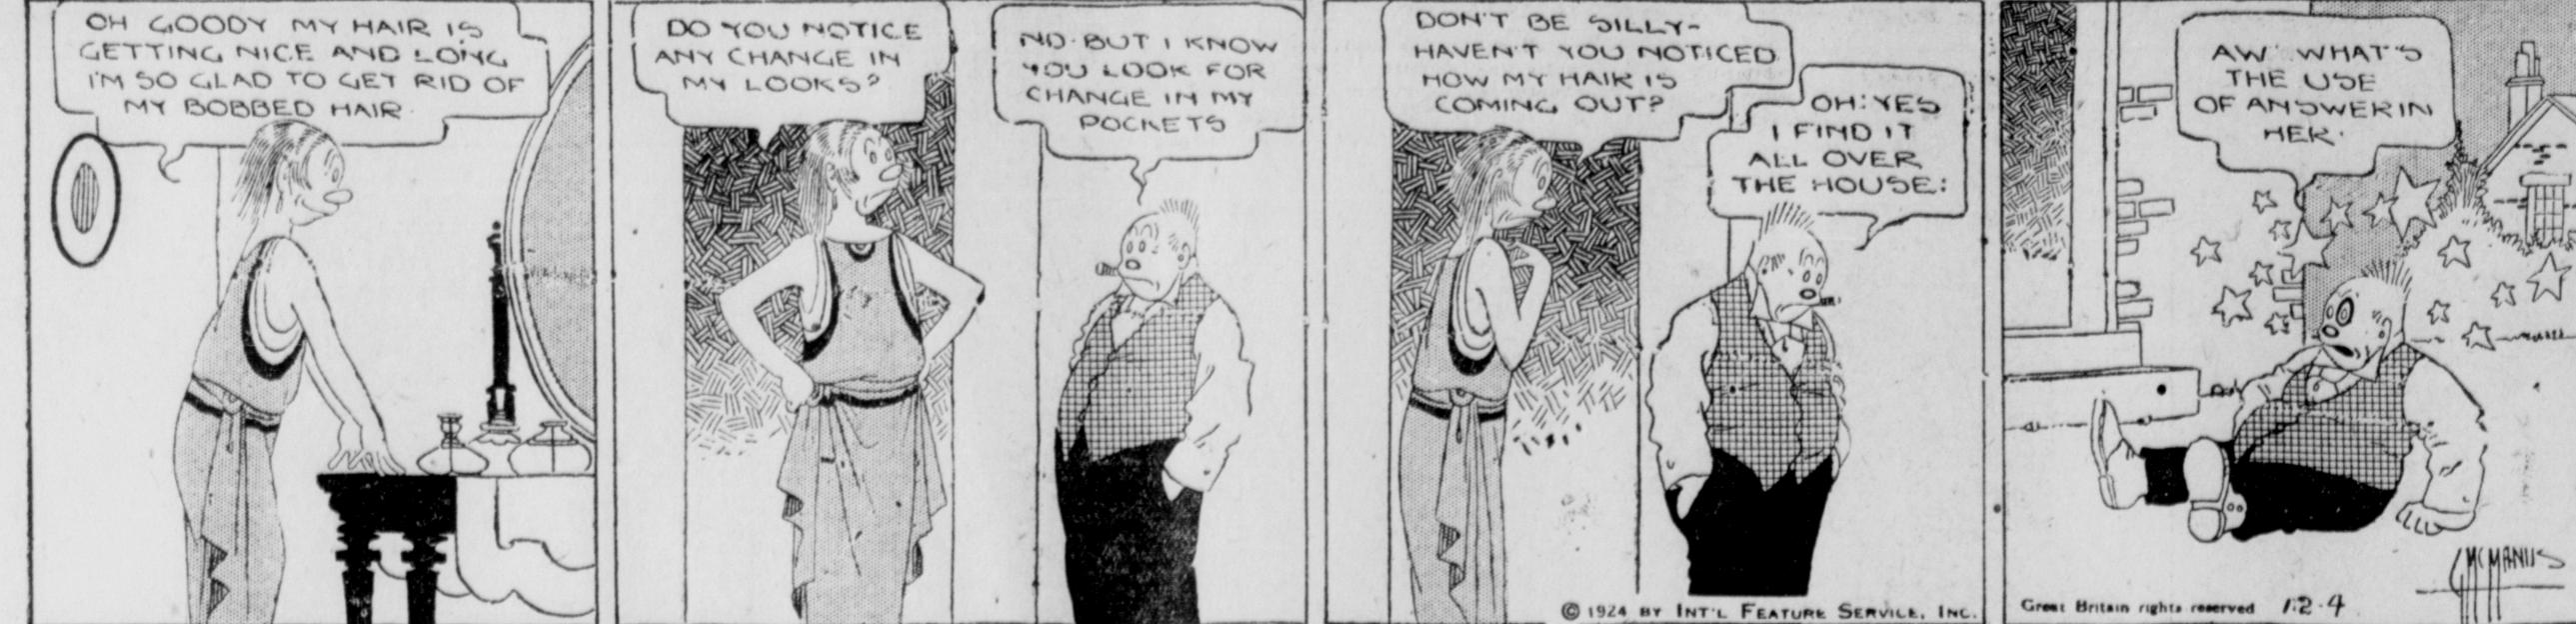

A remarkable new and simple method for treating a cough gives relief with the first doses and usually breaks a severe, cough in 24 hours.

The treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold in your throat for 10 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action, not only breaking the spasmodic and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congealed mucus which are the direct cause of the coughing. People have been astonished how quickly the coughing stopped with this new treatment, and the whole cough condition gradually cleared up.

The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic cough, etc. It is excellent for children as well as grownups—no harmful drugs. Economy too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Truant Soul

By

Victor Rousseau

"The doctor's safe," he said, and as he spoke Joan saw Lancaster among a group of men who had gathered about something wrapped in a blanket. He rose and came to her. That was all Joan remembered.

And for days and nights her memories of the past were cut short with Lancaster's return that night, borne back by the power of her love flung across the miles between them. She knew that he lived, and as the nightmare of the end filtered into her mind there came with it the sense of an abiding peace, as if the past was dead, with all its terrors.

Sometimes she felt that Lancaster was beside her; but when at last complete consciousness returned Joan found herself in bed in a strange house. Through the windows she could see the outlines of the familiar mountains, glided in the red sunset glow against the blue of the sky. Beside her sat a figure which seemed to be so remotely of the past that it was difficult to refrain from laughing at the incongruity of the sight.

It was Jenkins, with his black head. As Joan stirred he turned toward her.

"That's right, Miss Wentworth," he said heartily. "Now you're rounded the corner, and I reckon the lame lies straight before you."

The doctor did not steal that money," murmured Joan weakly.

Jenkins laughed as if her words amused him immensely. "Why, Miss Wentworth, you've been saying that to me every time you woke these five days past," he said, "but I couldn't ever get you to tell me how you knew it."

"I don't remember saying it before," said Joan.

"I reckon you've been pretty weak, Miss Wentworth. But tell me now how you know it."

"I don't know. Why, yes, of course I do. Doctor Lancaster couldn't steal anything. Where is he?"

"I'll fetch him, Miss Wentworth. He wants to see you; he's been sitting beside you for days waiting till you really woke up."

"I'm not burned, Doctor Jenkins?"

The doctor hesitated. The old obstinate look began to close down on his features. But Joan caught him by the arm ingratiatingly.

"Come, now, tell me," she said. "Did he—he did he inject morphine into me?"

"No, Miss Wentworth," said Jenkins, unable to hold out. "It wasn't morphine. It was curare—the stuff that paralyzes the motor nerves without destroying consciousness." His face grew somber. "It doesn't leave traces, as morphine does, and that devil had put it into morphine bottles and made the doctor think he was a morphine fiend. They hoped to kill him more quickly, but somehow he got used to it, and I guess they were at their wits' ends when you came along. But I'll call the doctor, Miss Wentworth."

When he was gone Joan lay back

(THE END)

RESULTS THAT LAST

Proven by Xenia People.

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But one kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Xenia.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and now makes her endorsement even stronger.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "I suffered with lame back quite frequently, but the most annoying symptom was the irregularity of my kidneys. I felt languid and it seemed I couldn't get any rest. Doan's Pills from Donges' Drug Store cured me entirely."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Pohl said: "I have had no further occasion to use Doan's since they cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Pohl had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
